They have pretended that the bright young things they send into a hungry market as MBAs are, in fact, trained professional managers with a rare grasp of management science. Management, says Mintzberg, is not a science, nor is it a profession. It is not something someone can learn to do in a business school.

In his book 'Managers, not MBA's', Henry Mintzberg already noted that recruiting various competencies doesn't necessarily make a manager competent. A good manager not only performs well because he is able to recruit various competencies, but also because of the relationship and dynamics between his competencies.
