Filming "The Birds" in Bodega Bay. After filming "Shadow of A Doubt" in Santa Rosa in 1948, Alfred Hitchcock returned to Sonoma County in 1961 to find a remote coastal location for his next project "The Birds.". He chose Bodega Bay, with surrounding bleak treeless hills, quiet fishing harbor and fog. Based on a short story by Daphne DuMaurier, the original story took place in an English seashore village where murderous birds attacked the local villagers.

Adding birdhouses to your yard is a great way to attract cavity-nesting birds, but not all bird species will choose an enclosed house to raise their families. There are hundreds of bird species throughout the world that will readily use birdhouses and nest boxes, however, and knowing which species are most likely to become tenants can help you prepare to be a bird landlord.

The House of Birds is no such book though - both Oliver and Sophia are fascinating, intricate characters who go through moving character arcs that sweep the reader along in their path - you're never eager to leave one time period and go into another, but you're never disappointed to find yourself in the company of either group of characters. It's also important to note that fascinating social issues are touched upon too, with Sophia a woman trapped in a loveless marriage, desperate to ...

Birds can find these more favorable spots for nesting—particularly if the log is in a safe and secure area. Understand How Your House Looks to Birds. One study showed that lightly-colored aluminum and vinyl siding homes are less likely to receive bird pecking damage. While there are more affordable options than re-siding or re-painting your home, try to look at where your house is most affected by birds and understand how it might look to any bird thinking about nesting.
